

Congratulations!

If you are viewing this file, your computer already has the Adobe Reader program installed. You will be able to use all of the features of this format for any Internet coursework you take in the future.

Be sure to check, however, and see what version of Adobe Reader you have. To check this, click on the Help menu above, and click on “About Adobe Reader.” Be certain that you are running at least Adobe Reader 4.0 or higher. If you don’t have this version, return to your browser and follow the instructions to download the newer version of the program.
